The Community Care Group

Established in 1974, Community Care has been providing the latest news, research, career opportunities and essential learning to the sector for over 45 years. Although our products and service offerings may have evolved over time, our quest to inform, support learning and facilitate ongoing professional development remains at the forefront of everything we do.

Community Care Live 2023

Launched in London over 25 years ago, our annual flagship event, Community Care Live, is the UK's largest free to attend social work and social care event. On offer is a free expert seminar programme providing essential learning and training for social work and social care professionals, as well as occupational therapists and all students on both social work and occupational therapy degree courses. The programme is supported by an exhibition where delegates, exhibitors and speakers can network and share learning with other organisations within the sector including local authorities, residential care providers, suppliers, recruiters, the voluntary sector, NHS trusts and universities. In addition to the free seminar programme and exhibition we also offer a legal learning stream. These sessions offer the latest legal updates from some of the country's leading experts. A fee applies to reserve a place at these 8 sessions. We look forward to building on the success of Community Care Live in 2023 and beyond – and we very much hope you and your organisation will be there too.

“I had an amazing experience!
Was great to understand what other local authorities are doing around the country”

Why Exhibit?

Community Care Live provides the opportunity for your organisation to engage with social work and social care professionals including team managers, heads of service, directors, principal social workers, senior practitioners, social workers, occupational therapists, workforce leads and students on social work and occupational therapy degree courses. While video calls and remote learning are very much part of our working lives now, there is no way to fully replicate the benefits of face to face interaction, learning and networking that this event provides.

Make sure your organisation is part of Community Care Live 2023 so you can:

- Be part of a key event in the social work calendar
- Network with key decision makers including directors and team managers
- Meet with an audience of highly engaged social work and social care professionals
- Take advantage of face to face interaction within the social work and care sector at this essential learning event
- Position your organisation as a supporter of social work training, learning and career development
- Discuss any career opportunities directly with active and potential jobseekers whilst positioning your organisation as an employer of choice

Who's at the event?

- At Community Care Live 2022, 54% of delegates were from local authorities, with over 100 different local authorities represented
- Almost 20% of delegates hold senior titles including commissioners, heads of department, workforce leads, principal social workers and team managers
- Around 40 organisations supported Community Care Live 2022 including local authorities, charities, independent sector providers, social care suppliers, NHS trusts, book publishers and consultancies

“A positive experience re-connecting with social work learning and best practice”

“Enriching to be amongst so many social work colleagues from across the country”

What does Community Care Live offer delegates?

Every year social work and social care professionals choose to take the time out of their busy schedules and join us at Community Care Live to:

- Attend the exhibition – make sure your organisation is there to meet and speak to delegates about your exciting plans and developments
- Seek new career and professional opportunities – if you're looking for the best employees or have further training and courses to offer, don't miss out on the chance to discuss these directly with potential candidates
- Learn from the informative sessions, master classes and debates, and listen to engaging speakers
- Join colleagues from the social work and care community as they come together from across the country all under one roof
- Contribute towards professional development – demonstrate how your organisation is committed to helping those in the sector reach their potential

“Brilliant event as always full of fantastic and varied speakers and stands”

Enhance your presence at the event

There are a number of sponsorship and promotional opportunities available at Community Care Live 2023, including event guide advertising, seat drops, speaker opportunities, event host and sponsor packages. These provide an unrivalled opportunity to maximise your presence at the event ensuring your organisation is front of mind for all delegates. Find out more below, and contact Nicola Davies, Head of Partnerships and Events, who would be delighted to discuss these opportunities with you.

PRE-EVENT

Branding on communitycare.co.uk

Let our audience know you'll be at the event by taking advantage of discounted rates for online adverts on communitycare.co.uk when you sign up for an exhibition stand.

Price on application.

DURING THE EVENT

Event guide

The event guide (printed version) is given to all attendees for them to read and refer to both during and after the event. Placing an advert in the event guide is a simple but effective way of delivering and reinforcing a message to this engaged audience and encouraging visits to your stand. The guide will also be available online during the event.

Full page, full colour advert £1500 + VAT.

Sponsored speaker opportunity

A perfect opportunity for your organisation to position itself as a thought leader through hosting your very own one hour workshop, which will be integrated into the main seminar programme. Our producer will discuss the subject and content with you to ensure that it meets our educational learning criteria and maximises attendance.

Please note: limited opportunities remaining. Price on application.

Seat drop

If you have a key message you want to communicate to a specific group of people, a seat drop allows you to target those interested in certain session topics.

Prices start from £300 + VAT

“Great opportunity to hear about practice at a national level, networking and learning with peers”

“It has been fantastic experience, nice to see everyone face to face”
